

Q1:

1. An international team of scientists discovered the new rainforest on Mount Bosavi.
 2. The rainforest has existed for thousands of years.
 3. The scientists found brightly colored tiny frogs, unusual species of fish, rare bats and spiders, a kangaroo resembling a small bear, and a giant rat the size of a cat.
 4. The rainforest has remained hidden for so long because it is very difficult to reach due to its remote and challenging location, over 2,500 meters above sea level, inside the crater of a massive volcano.
 5. The pronoun "their" refers to the international team of scientists.
 6. Yes, rainforests are important and should be preserved because they produce oxygen, help regulate weather, and are home to countless species of plants and animals.
 7. We can contribute to the protection of rainforests by supporting sustainable farming practices, reducing deforestation, and raising awareness about the importance of conserving these ecosystems.
-

Q2:

1. Plants
 2. Extinct
 3. Oxygen
 4. Logging
 5. Surface
-

Q3: Example

1. Oxygen: The rainforest plays a key role in producing oxygen for the planet.
2. Logging: Logging is a major threat to the environment because it destroys valuable habitats.

3. Habitat: Rainforests provide a habitat for a wide variety of species.
-

Q4:

1. I have visited the Children's Museum.
 2. We haven't finished working on the science project.
 3. Nader has traveled to England.
 4. I have called my mother.
 5. They haven't saved the rainforests.
 6. Have you seen their photographs?
-

Q5:

1. Julia has been to Ajloun Forest Nature Reserve yet.
 - Mistake: "yet" is incorrectly used in a positive statement.
 - Correction: Julia hasn't been to Ajloun Forest Nature Reserve yet.
2. Julia has already taken some photos.
 - Correct ✓
3. Julia hasn't already seen the hyenas and wolves.
 - Mistake: "already" is incorrectly used in a negative sentence.
 - Correction: Julia hasn't seen the hyenas and wolves yet.
4. Julia hasn't seen the Roman Theatre in Jerash already.
 - Mistake: "already" is incorrectly used in a negative sentence.
 - Correction: Julia hasn't seen the Roman Theatre in Jerash yet.

5. Julia hasn't stayed in the cabins at the nature reserve yet.

Correct ✓

Q6:

Example answer:

Rainforests are crucial because they provide oxygen, regulate weather patterns, and house a wide variety of species. They also play an essential role in maintaining the balance of Earth's ecosystems. To save the rainforests, we can reduce deforestation, support eco-friendly products, and encourage reforestation. Raising awareness about the importance of these ecosystems is key to their preservation. By protecting rainforests, we can help preserve biodiversity and ensure a sustainable future for generations to come.